For more than 220 years, Bank of America and our associates have given time and resources to the neighborhoods where we live and work.

At Bank of America, we are committed to creating meaningful change in the communities we serve through our philanthropic efforts, associate volunteerism, community development activities and investing, support of arts and culture programming and environmental initiatives.

In the Greater Houston area, associates and their families contributed thousands of hours to community activities such as the United Way Day of Caring, March of Dimes, Houston Food Bank and Habitat for Humanity.

Bank of America is one of the world's largest financial institutions, serving individual consumers, small- and middle-market businesses and large corporations with a
