

- Dual expertise in consultancy and engineering design offers total life-of-field solutions that virtually eliminate misfires as a project moves from phase-to-phase.
- Front-end consultancy expertise is based on nearly 25 years experience with super majors and independent oil and gas operators.
- Genesis' expertise encompasses onshore, offshore and subsea experience.
- Offshore and subsea engineering design is managed by senior and principal engineers with experience gleaned on milestone projects in the Gulf of Mexico, the North Sea, the Caribbean, the Caspian Sea and off the shores of Africa, Western Australia and Southeast Asia.
- The global network of 13 offices allows any Genesis team to tap into the expertise of 1,200 veteran engineers any time for any project.
- Houston's staff of more than 400 professionals includes veterans of challenging projects, such as Thunder Horse, Cascade/Chinook, Jack/St. Malo and Marine Well Containment.
- Genesis is one company, one call, one contract for total project lifecycle management.
- Genesis operates with Deeper Understanding.

Our superior expertise and internal synergy make us the definitive market leader in front-end consultancy and execution of subsea, onshore and offshore projects

Genesis has united over 1,200 world-leading engineers in a global enterprise. Together, we have raised the bar in early-phase engineering consultancy, full-lifecycle subsea engineering services, FEED and detailed design of onshore and offshore projects. Using a deeper understanding of client objectives, constraints, market, environment and aspirations, we enhance efficiency, productivity and sustainability.

Genesis develops innovative and cutting-edge solutions for the upstream oil and gas industry, by leveraging on our core engineering, knowledge and techno-economic skills.
