A 400-acre master-planned community just 30 miles from downtown Houston in Richmond, Texas, Fieldstone is easily accessible from I-10, U.S. 59 and the Westpark Tollway.

Close to Katy and Sugar Land, which is ranked No. 1 in growth in the Houston area and one of the safest towns in the country, Fieldstone residents have easy access to the popular suburb's offerings, including First Colony Mall and a new downtown of upscale retailers and restaurants.

The Fieldstone community itself boasts an array of lavish amenities including a 5.5-acre recreation center with playground, splash pad and outdoor fire pit, all of which are available for residents' private party rentals. The community's pool is divided into a lap pool and water-park slide on one side and a kiddie pool and shaded beach on the other for everyone's fun. Walking paths fan out from these centralized amenities and wind throughout the neighborhood to lead residents through a landscape of nature's beauty with pocket parks, playgrounds and a serenity pond.

Serving the Fieldstone neighborhood is the accredited Fort Bend Independent School District, which recently opened three new campuses and provides the best in academic education and extracurricular activities in state-of-the-art facilities where students can reach their full potential.

Fieldstone takes pride in giving buyers the privilege of customizing their homes, which is why it has teamed up with three nationally accredited homebuilders: Ashton Woods Homes, Brighton Homes and Meritage Homes. Each offers several plans from which to choose at different price points so you can create the home that's right for you. Upon build out, the Fieldstone community will have approximately 1,500 homes while retaining 21 acres of open green space.
